Strategic Partnership Produces Unique Offering to Litigation Professionals

Partnership to provide simplified, centralised, and cost-effective solutions to litigation professionals by combining tape restoration capabilities with eDisclosure and litigation support expertise.

London (PRWEB) May 27, 2006 -- Trilantic, specialists in the eDisclosure and litigation support market, announces today its strategic partnership with eMag Solutions, leaders in the acquisition and processing of data from tape. The relationship combines the rapid tape restoration capabilities of eMag Solutions with the electronic document gathering and conversion expertise of Trilantic, providing a superior service offering to legal professionals throughout Europe and the Middle East.

Working together from Trilantic's head office in London, the two organisations are able to deliver simplified, centralised, and cost-effective solutions. This will reduce the amount of time between identifying data for review to actually being able to review it – whether it be on tape, hard drives or paper.

Nigel Murray, Managing Director of Trilantic said, "Our partnership with eMag Solutions is formed by our mutual recognition that by combining our individual expertise, our clients will benefit from access to a broader range of solutions and a seamless service offering."

He said "We appreciate that organisations need to make best use of modern technology to support their business processes. We have an exciting vision on how to effectively deliver our improved services in the future. The strategic partnership will provide new skills and additional capacity to help deliver these."

Mike Davies, Technical Director of eMag added "The legal market is critical for eMag and our partnership with Trilantic will provide an enhanced service to London based firms"

He added "The past 6 months, since the changes to CPR, has seen a dramatic rise in the number of requests we have received for data from tape to be presented in support of litigation. Our partnership with Trilantic means that we can now jointly offer services to support data from all sources quickly and cost effectively".

About eMag Solutions:

Based in Atlanta with European operations in the United Kingdom, eMag Solutions is a leading electronic discovery company specialising in accessing data from a variety of archived sources, helping organisations reduce business risk. Key to their service portfolio is their ability to restore data directly from tape without the need to use the originating hardware or software. This non-native capability can dramatically reduce the cost of accessing and processing tape based data. Founded in 1964 as Datatape Corporation, the company is privately held.
