International SuperSessions Hosted by TRILANTIC at 2009 LegalTech New York

Legal Tech is fast approaching and TRILANTIC is pleased to be hosting three international eDisclosure educational sessions at the 2009 LegalTech New York conference on Tuesday, 3rd February. International disclosure involves many unique challenges: understanding and complying with local regulations and privacy laws; processing and reviewing documents in different languages; dealing with special logistics when setting up and managing a review; and finding reliable support services. The panel of experts will discuss their experiences and offer practical advice regarding international disclosure matters. The panels will include industry-leading individuals in the international eDisclosure field and will be moderated by esteemed industry experts Browning Mearns from DLA Piper, George Socha from Socha Consulting and George Rudoy from Shearman & Sterling.

LegalTech New York will take place at the New York Hilton, 2nd-4th February. LegalTech is the largest legal technology event of the year. For more than two decades, LegalTech has provided law firms and legal departments an educational in-depth look at what the technological world has in store by offering more than 50 educational tracks, renowned industry speakers and more than 200 legal vendors. For more information, visit www.legaltechshow.com. Please visit our website to download your 2009 LegalTech Exhibits Only Pass. This will grant you admission to the conference, along with attending the 3 keynote sessions, 3 full days of exhibits, LegalTech Town Hall, Inside the LegalTech Studio, SuperSessions and all Emerging Technology Track Sessions.
