

TRILANTIC LAUNCHES UNIQUE eDISCLOSURE PROPOSITION
New legal support company offers tailored end-to-end solution

TRILANTIC is a new UK-based legal support company offering a unique end-to-end set of services. Its core products include data gathering and document processing, database hosting and document disclosure, and courtroom presentation and technical support.

TRILANTIC brings together some of the leading specialists from the eDisclosure field. Managing Director, Nigel Murray, is a founder of the litigation support industry in Europe. His colleagues have worked on many of the UK's first eDisclosure cases, continuing a pattern of successful innovation over the past twelve years. Highly respected within their industry they provide the vital skills required in handling the vast volumes of electronic material encountered in today's disputes.

Whilst current market trends favour the selection of multiple suppliers for eDisclosure needs, TRILANTIC now provides a fresh option - a complete end-to-end service - offering one solution under one roof. Its dedicated team provides the adaptability that clients require, recognising that no single dispute is the same and that solutions must be tailor made. The result is a project management orientated approach that saves both time and money, delivering all the benefits of a single point of contact in terms of communication, efficiency and quality.

TRILANTIC has invested heavily in its IT and infrastructure ensuring that these benefits are readily transferred to clients. Data security is key to all areas of the company with round-the-clock physical surveillance and IT protection. Their London headquarters offer the largest electronic document processing capacity available within the square mile, as well as the added convenience of being based in the City's heart. It is from this newly created central hub that TRILANTIC provides its 24 hour worldwide eDisclosure service.

With its technical proficiency, knowledge of data protection law and suite of solutions, TRILANTIC is more of a partner than a supplier, providing for all eDisclosure needs with a complete and innovative service, fine-tuned to every client's specific requirements.

A reception to celebrate the launch of TRILANTIC will take place after the 'Litigation Management Forum – Litigation: A Digital Age' on the 21st September 2005.
